DISTANCE LEARNING 'CHEAT SHEET'

- You have been assigned a Blue Day or Gold Day just like every other student at CHS. You are to attend your classes live via Zoom on your designated day.
- You will receive a Zoom link for each of your classes on the days you are to attend live. The link will be in your school email and it will also appear on your Google Calendar.
- On the days you do not have to log in live, Google Classroom will still have lesson for each of your classes that will be due during school hours.
- Blue Day students will start logging in live on Tuesday, September 8th. Gold Day students start logging in live on Wednesday, September 9th. Gold day students do not need to worry about Google Classroom on Tuesday, September 8th.

TIP FOR SUCCESS

- Find a quiet place in your house to work that is free from distractions.
- Establish a solid morning routine that includes eating breakfast before classes start.
- Attendance policies still apply. You need to log in on time to your classes.
- Remember that you will be joining your classmates and interacting with them during class so dress appropriately.
- Make sure you can log into your Google account before the first day of school. If you are having trouble, please contact us.
- Our Homework Help line is available to you during school hours. Email homeworkhelp@isd593.org
- Distance learners have access to meal services through our 'Grab and Go' option. Please see the website for details.
- Remember to reach out if you are struggling! We are here to help and ensure you are being successful.
- If Distance Learning is not working remember you are able to rejoin our normal classes as soon as you feel you are able.
